OAKS

The image shows the exterior of a building with a beige metal roof and light-colored walls. A red awning with a scalloped edge is mounted over a set of white double doors. The awning has the text "CHAPEL OAKS FUNERAL HOME" printed in white. The doors have arched windows with multiple panes and dark handles. The entrance is flanked by stone pillars. To the right, there is a plain wall with a small, dark, lantern-style light fixture. The sky is clear and blue, and a utility pole is visible in the background.

The image shows the exterior of a Bank of Highland building. The main feature is a large, light-colored sign with a brown border that reads "BANK OF HIGHLAND" in green, bold, sans-serif capital letters. The sign is mounted on a light-colored wall. Below the sign is a dark, shadowed area that appears to be the entrance or a recessed part of the building. In the foreground, there is a green lawn and a yellow curb. In the background, there are trees and a utility building with electrical equipment.
